Discussion of Policies 5200 and 9200: Chosen Name and Pronoun

Trustee Weiss requested a motion to recommend Policies 5200 and Policy 9200: Chosen Name and Pronoun to the Full Board of Trustees for discussion and reading, and adoption at its Board meeting scheduled for June 13, 2023, and that the same be subsequently incorporated into the policy manual of the Board of Trustees of Nassau Community College after the second reading by the Board of Trustees and the passing of the policy by the Board of Trustees?

Trustee Durso made the motion; seconded by Trustee Siberón. Motion carried 4-0.

Trustee Weiss began the discussion by reminding the committee that Policies 5200 and 9200: Chosen Name and Pronoun were discussed at length in October 2022. She mentioned an apropos article in this Newsday regarding New York State Education Department decision that K-12 school districts must allow students to select their chosen name and chosen pronoun without the requirement of parental permission. Individual legal names will not be changed and will remain on transcripts and other formal documentation. However, students will be able to choose a first name by which they would like to be called and the personal pronouns by which they want to be mean is inconsistent with an institution of higher learning. The future will judge these types of actions. The English language definition of they is more than one person, and to state differently, that an individual may be called they, is improper use of a pronoun although the person could have a name, making it a noun.

Trustee Weiss remarked that he is currently studying language and how there is a long precedent in the English language of they being used in a singular context, and so such usage is not incorrect. He does not understand the objection to they or other pronouns used in a singular context.

Trustee Rosenberg replied that his concern is for others being forced or feeling compelled to address anyone by incorrect pronouns.

Trustees Weiss added that it is critical for individual members of our staff to recognize other people by their chosen pronouns regardless of personal comfort or how we were previously taught.

2. Policy 5200 (Students): Chosen Name and Pronoun

Trustee Weiss asked all in favor to forward Policy 5200 to the Board of Trustees.
