

Advance Your Career In Health Care

Do you have an interest in making a life-changing difference by helping people of all ages prevent and treat heart disease? Are

Training to become an EKG Technician might be the right choice for you. The healthcare industry on Long Island is one of the fastest growing sectors, and the outlook for the EKG Technician job growth is projected to increase faster than average. Employment and rehabilitation centers.

EKG Technicians perform electrocardiograms which monitor the patient's heart and can help detect certain heart conditions.

Learn how to operate EKG equipment, gain valuable experience

Using a combination of classroom and lab learning, this course will prepare students to sit for the National Healthcareer Association the basic anatomy and physiology terminology associated with the heart and circulatory systems, signs and symptoms of diseases, and the electrophysiology/conduction system of the heart. Lab on other students in the class in order to meet the requirement all practical skills. The course has 60 hours of instructor-led sessions in the classroom.

Students are required to purchase the textbook, blue (any shade) scrubs and a blood pressure cuff and stethoscope. The course fee includes the NHA Study Guide, Practice Test and the cost of a one-time NHA/CET Certifying Exam.

CE1 235 ON-CAMPUS COURSE

The NHA certifying exam date is scheduled after course completion. Fee: $1,795

#CERTIFICATION

of Completion from Nassau Community College. To sit for the by the NHA

